

Helms Denies C.I.A. Role

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Richard Helms, Director of Central Intelligence, has denied that the Central Intelligence Agency had anything to do with the mission of the Pueblo.

"Neither this agency nor I personally have had anything to do with the mission of the U. S. S. Pueblo, the ship itself or any of its crew," Mr. Helms said in a letter to Senator Stuart Symington, Democrat of Missouri.

The letter was dated and released today.